

Be a Butter-maker Hands-on activity

This activity involves participants in:

Identifying objects used in the butter-making process
Understanding how cream is turned into butter Shaping 'mock butter' [playdoh] with real museum objects

By pre-booking this activity groups can do a practical exercise of turning real cream into butter by agitating cream in a jam jar with a marble. The butter can then be eaten at lunchtime if wanted.

Hi ! I'm Daisy the dairy cow!

Can you find me?
I'm hiding near all the things used to make butter in the kitchen

I'll show you how to make butter, just turn over the page
