

Kitchen Snap Game hands-on activity

This activity involves participants in:

Developing observation skills

Comparison and discussion of changing technology

The game consists of a series of photo-cards to play Snap by matching an old household object with its present-day version.

In order to win, participants need to have previously looked carefully at the contents of the kitchen displays of household goods. All of the 'old' objects are on display.