

Stereoscope hands-on activity

This involves participants in:

Practical experience of handling a real museum object.

Understanding the optical principles behind a stereoscope.

Comparing and understanding leisure activities before electricity to today's computers and electronic equipment.

