I moved to York with my family in 2017 with the hope of building a life in the Wheatbelt. As a child I lived in several regional and metropolitan locations in or near the hotels my father and mother were running.

I have a background in music; I have been in the music industry for 35 years, including 15 years of teaching VET-level tertiary music.

I recently altered my career path, having taken a role as Community Educator with Regional Men's Health Initiative, based in Northam and servicing men's health and wellbeing throughout Western Australia.

The Gibbs family moved to York to get involved. To that end I currently serve as President of the York Agricultural Society, and as a committee member for Voice of the Avon 101.3FM, St. Patrick's Church Council, and York Kids Club. I see volunteering as a vital means of community engagement and connection.

I will take this spirit of community commitment to the Shire of York Council and serve our people to the utmost of my abilities.
