I have a strong passion for our community. Over the last two years, I have volunteered my time to bring about positive changes for York and surrounding areas. I am the visionary and co-founder of York's food bank, Healthy Self Wellness York, which supports the community by way of reducing hardship, situational distress and isolation.

For my efforts, I received the Citizen of the Year award.

I have personally experienced hardship and found a way to accept responsibility for where I was and found solutions to empower me to direct the best way forward. I have 25 years of experience in health, so all areas of health within the community, is very important to me.

I feel all views have a place in creating the best way forward and all areas, (Culture, Agriculture, Trade, General Business, Aged, Families and Singles), in York have a strong synergy with each other and this is worth preserving. I would love to be a piece of the movement that brings new opportunities for everyone in our community.
