I am passionate about supporting people and helping communities thrive.

I have served large communities in Perth and Melbourne as a pastor, supporting children, families and young people, while leading community music programs and sitting on boards and councils overseeing governance and performance.

I train leaders, provide counselling and support personal growth. I held the positions of President and Chair for eight years on my local School Council and P&C, strengthening local education and community involvement.

As CEO of a Perth community radio station, I improved governance and ensured compliance with state and federal regulators. I live in York, where I contribute through the Golf Club committee and local initiatives.

For 13 years I have run my own business in construction approvals, working with Local Governments across Western Australia. I bring leadership, governance and business experience and am committed to transparent, accountable leadership for a thriving, sustainable York.
